PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Mr. Rui Luo's practice focuses on IP litigation and IP-related anti-monopoly dispute resolution. He has particular expertise in representing multinational clients in complex and high-stakes IP-related disputes in China.

Mr. Luo is a veteran litigator with extensive experience in all types of IP-related disputes, including patent, trademark, copyright, trade secrets, competition law and anti-monopoly. In more than 12 years of practice, Mr. Luo has represented clients in IP disputes before all key IP courts in China. With his deep insights into the IP protection system in China, Mr. Luo has helped his clients win many landmark cases before Supreme People's Court, Beijing High People's Court, Guangdong High People's and Beijing IP Court. A number of these cases have been selected as guideline cases by Supreme People's Court, Beijing High People's Court and Beijing IP Court.

Mr. Luo also has vast experience with patent invalidation proceedings before the Patent Reexamination Board of the National Intellectual Property Administration. Leveraging his technical education background, Mr. Luo has represented clients in many high-stakes patent invalidation proceedings related to telecommunication and semiconductor technologies. Mr. Luo is particularly experienced in coordinating patent invalidation proceedings with pertinent infringement actions to maximize his clients' advantages and resolve complex patent disputes with high efficiency.

Before joining Han Kun in 2015, Mr. Luo practiced Chinese IP law for more than seven years at two leading Chinese firms.
